

MURDEROUS ASSAULT ON MRS. FINCHAM.

A murderous assault of a peculiarly dastardly and atrocious character was committed about 11 o'clock yesterday morning on Mrs. Fincham, wife of Deputy Assistant Commissary General Fincham, Ordnance Store Department, at her residence in Richmond Terrace, her cowardly assailant being the Chinese house-boy, who had been acting as substitute for Mr. Fincham's regular servant since the middle of last month. It appears that Mr. Fincham had spoken to the house-boy about certain articles missing from the house, and told him that if they were not forthcoming he would stop the value from his pay. Mr. Fincham went to his office about 8.45 yesterday morning, leaving his wife alone in the house with the house-boy, the house-cook and the cook. Mrs. Fincham, missing a silver bangle, spoke to the house-boy about it. The murderous villain would then seem to have decided on his course of action, which he had probably been meditating some time before. He sent both the house-cook and the cook out of the house on some pretext or other, and locking the front door, rushed up to the room where Mrs. Fincham was dressing, seized her by the throat in a deadly grip, and threw her on the floor, retaining his hold on her throat by one hand, and attempting to strangle her. With the other hand he dragged her round the room by the hair, striking her head against the legs of the table and chairs, also striking her with his fist and kicking her. He pulled her diamond rings from her fingers and her gold bangles from her wrists, and cutting her several times on the forehead, several times he pulled her on to her knees and tried to break her neck by forcing her head backwards, and it was only when he saw blood issuing from her eyes, nose and mouth, that he relaxed his grasp of the poor lady's throat, and threw her backwards, thinking he had done for her. He waited a minute or two to see if she yet moved, but although almost unconscious, Mrs. Fincham had presence of mind enough left to feign total insensibility, a course which in all probability saved her life. The villain then went away, leaving Mrs. Fincham as he doubtless imagined, dead, and cleared out of the house with her diamond rings, gold bangles, and some knives and forks. After the midnight had left her room, Mrs. Fincham, dreaming that she would return with a knife and cut her throat to make sure of her work, made a supreme effort and dragged herself into the bath-room, which she locked. The poor lady remained there in a state of great trepidation, listening for foot-steps, and soon after the house-cook came up, upon recognizing whose voice she opened the door and immediately fainted away. The house-cook afterwards assisted her to Dr. Wharry's house next door. The attack was so sudden and unexpected that Mrs. Fincham was only able to give one scream before the murderous villain had seized her throat in his vice-like grasp. Both her eyes were closed up from the effects of her cowardly assailant's violence, for whom hanging would be much too good. The scandal was arrested by the police this morning, in the brothel, we believe, where his fancy-woman lived, both of them being taken to the station. They were up before Mr. Woodhouse this morning, who, after hearing evidence in respect to the property stolen by the house-boy from Mr. Fincham's house, remanded the case, on the application of Inspector Thomson, for a week, to enable Mrs. Fincham's evidence to be obtained, and to endeavour to recover more of the stolen property. Mr. Fincham, in his evidence at the Police Court, valued the whole at about $97. A portion was found in the brothel on the person of the house-boy and his paramour, and other articles were hunted up in pawn-shops. Mr. Fincham recognised in Court this morning, as his property, a diamond ring, a solid gold bangle, a pencil case, a gold scarf ring, a silver bangle, a table cloth, a silk girdle, and two pocket handkerchiefs, the value of which he estimated at $300, leaving property worth $600 still unrecovered. A silver chain attached to a silver watch, he was unable to state positively, but he was almost certain it was his, the watch was not his property. The diamond ring and the gold bangles were those worn by Mrs. Fincham when Mr. Fincham left the house at 8.45 yesterday morning. It appears the house-boy had given $10 to his paramour, the proceeds doubtless of the articles he had stolen from Mr. Fincham, and had instructed her to be ready to clear out with him to Macao, but he was caught before he could carry out his purpose. This money, we believe, is in the hands of the Police. Mrs. Fincham is under the care of Dr. Harpagan, and we sincerely hope the unfortunate lady's injuries will not turn out to be of a very serious nature. Her account of the assault is a thick-set, strongly built Chinaman, and appeared in the dock this morning in rather superior attire. He is determined looking fellow, and not bad-looking for a Chinaman.

GRAND FAREWELL TEA MEETING, AND ENTERTAINMENT AT THE TEMPERANCE HALL.

We have sojourned in many lands in both of the torrid and temperate—the frigid we have reserved for the time in the distant future when we shall essay the sublime discovery which greater men than ourselves have perished in attempting, namely, the whereabouts of the mysterious North Pole—have visited many Temperance Halls, and been present at many of the entertainments given by those very useful institutions; but we are bound to confess that we have never yet witnessed a fatter Tea than that given at the Temperance Hall in Queen's Road last evening, under the auspices of the Royal Naval Temperance Society. We used the word "fatter" of malice aforethought. It is a great mistake to suppose that jollity only pertains to festive occasions when the flowing bowl of champagne, "good Rhine wine," or Roderick Dhu punch circulates. There is, in our opinion, a superior kind of jollity, the jollity not born of poisonous alcoholic compounds, but the pure, calmer jollity which has its source in rational social enjoyment and cheering togetherness—the veritable "feast of reason and flow of soul." That jollity was treated to the fullest extent last evening by large numbers of the "gentle" and "total" soldiers, and although we are not total abstemious ourselves, a prolonged residence in the East having rendered a "wet drop" essential, on purely medical grounds, of course, for our "stomach's sake and our liver's infirmities," yet any effort made to control and restrict the demon of intemperance, which stalks through the land slaying its victims right and left, will always have our hearty approval and support. It is the fashion of the hard-headed ones who can stow away a hogshead under their "weak" without showing it in any appreciable extent, to sneer at the weakness of those who are not so quickly put to bed by the "upper" and "lower" drinks, but they should bear in mind that the "inimitable mean" is not possible to every one, and was even beyond the reach of our great Dr. Johnson himself. "Why don't you take a little wine?" said Boswell on one occasion to the Doctor. "Because I can't, sir," replied the moralist. "When I take wine I always take a good deal, and therefore I take none at all." A certain writer, whose name we forget, has said that there is a glory in the conquest which overcomes an evil passion, greater and brighter than the sword of Alexander and Caesar ever won, and as Temperance Halls and Temperance Societies are established to aid men in achieving that conquest, they are deserving of all support and encouragement. So long as intemperance like a scorching wind sweeps over our native land, blasting it with poverty and crime, disease and death, it behoves every one of us to do what he or she can to stem the tide of evil. However, we did not sit down to write an essay on Temperance, so revertis à nos moutons.

The tea meeting last evening was of a twofold character, a farewell to the men of the fleet going home in the Orontes on the 20th, and a reception to their successors, to encourage them to adopt temperance principles, and follow in the footsteps of those of their predecessors who were members of the Royal Naval Temperance Society. The room in the Hall appropriated to entertainments was very nicely got up for the occasion. The walls from top to bottom were draped throughout with flags of various nations, and from lines hung from pillars, both lengthways and crossways, depended numerous small flags of various colors, used for signalling purposes. The principal staircase was also prettily draped with flags. Over the front of the stage hung a portrait of Miss Agnes Weston, "the seamen's friend," and the stage itself shared in the general adornment. Altogether, the room presented a very pretty, not to say gorgeous appearance, and reflected great credit on the taste of the blue-jackets who ornamented it. The numerous tables with which the room was crowded, and which literally groaned under the abundance of good things set out for the enjoyment of our gallant defenders of both Services, added much to the beauty of the scene. The tables were tastefully laid out, and on each plate there was a handsome Christmas card and a button-hole flower. The tea was generously provided by a number of lady residents who take great interest in the spiritual and moral welfare of the men of the army and navy, and too much praise cannot be accorded them for the exceedingly tasteful character of the whole of the arrangements. His Excellency Vice Admiral Willes arrived about half past six and Lady Bowen and the Misses Bowen shortly afterwards, accompanied by Lieutenant Vyvyan, the Governor's aide-de-camp. As Lady Bowen entered the room, the assembly rose to their feet and sang the National Anthem. Tea was then proceeded with, and was served by the delicate hands of young ladies of 20 and 21, the Misses Bowen, Lieutenant Vyvyan, some naval officers, and other gentlemen, also lending a hand in carrying round the fragrant beverage. Lady Bowen, accompanied by Admiral Willes, went round the several tables, patting a little one here and there, and addressing some words to the men. Between 300 and 400 people sat down to tea, the blue-jackets and Buffs mustering strong. There were also members of the Marines, Royal Artillery and police present, and several military ladies with their children. The room was literally crowded, and additional tables had to be laid out in one of the adjoining rooms. Lady Bowen and party did not remain long. We overheard her ladyship tell a gentleman present that the Governor could not come as he had met with another accident on Tuesday. We hope it was not of a serious nature. Towards the conclusion of the Tea, Mr. James Francis, organizing agent of the Royal Naval Temperance Society, asked Admiral Willes to say a few words to the men. His Excellency advanced to the top of the room, and said—

"Soldiers, sailors and marines, I am going to ask you to drink the health of a flowing bowl of tea of Her Gracious Majesty the Queen, and in so doing, I take the opportunity of bidding the marines and sailors going home on the 20th, farewell. I wish them a pleasant passage and a happy meeting with their friends. I invite those lately come out to support by example those who are going away. I consider this is an excellent institution. Drunkenness is the cause of nearly all the crime in the navy, and I dare say also in the army. The soldiers will be encouraged in temperance by the General and their officers. I only address the sailors and marines, and I am sure the members of the Temperance Society will increase considerably. I ask you to drink the health of the Queen, and give Her Majesty three cheers." The toast was duly drunk in sparkling Bocks, 3 rounds of cheers being given for Her Majesty, and "one more" for the gallant Admiral, who, though evident by no means Demosthenes or a Pope Hennessy in "the gift of the gab," is yet a practical, bluff, kind-hearted old sailor who knows what he's about. The health of the President of the United States was next proposed by Sergeant Major Gleeson of the Buffs, and duly honored, three rounds of "hip hurrah" finishing up the toast. Mr. Halv R.N., then proposed the health of His Excellency the Governor, the toast receiving like treatment. The gallant Admiral then said he was going to propose another toast, in which he knew the sailors and marines would cordially join, and he didn't think the East Kents would be very far behind, and that was the health of the kind ladies who had given the entertainment that evening. The toast was drunk with all honors, the fair ones being cheered to the echo. Mr. Chisham R.N., next proposed the health of Miss Agnes Weston, and said that no words of his could make her dearer than she already was to the British sailor. She was already proof of their having carried the Temperance banner to the North Pole. They would be able to fight the battles of their country better without than with alcohol, and they would, moreover, be better husbands, better sweethearts, and better men. The toast was duly honored. Mr. Wright R.N., the Commodore's Secretary, said he was going to make "one little break in Mr. Francis's programme." He would ask them to "drink the health of Mr. Francis's himself. Many of them were not acquainted with some of those who were seated at the table, but they all knew Mr. Francis, and they would drink him the health of the man who had done more for them than they could do for him, and who had done more for the welfare of the nation than they could do for it. Mr. Francis would live long to fulfil his present position. The toast was duly drunk, and three hearty cheers given for the Society's indefatigable organizing agent. The health of Major General Sargent, proposed by Mr. Halv R.N., brought the toast to a close. Three hearty cheers were given for the gallant general. The room was then cleared to prepare for the entertainment, which was opened by an address by the chairman, the Rev. Mr. Harpagan, in welcoming the new comers, earnestly besought them to remember their position as missionaries in this country, influencing for good, or evil, those around them according as they used their time. He pointed out the evil influences which surrounded them, and told them they had at all events, one good place on the station where they would be taken care of and always at a home. He hoped and trusted that at the expiration of their commission they would be able to give a good account of how they had spent their time. He asked them to place their trust in God, and then, some what might, they would be able to say they had had a happy commission. The reverend gentleman concluded by again welcoming them in the name of the Hongkong branch of the Society. The remainder of the programme consisted of songs, recitations, duets, glee and also a duet and a cornet solo by men of the Buffs. Several lady and gentlemen residents took part in the entertainment, which was gone through in a very creditable manner. A farewell address by Mr. Wright R.N., the Commodore's Secretary, formed an item in the programme. Mr. Wright concluded it by wishing the homeward bound men, in the name of the local branch of the Society, a safe, speedy and pleasant voyage, and a happy reunion with their friends. Bishop Burton delivered an address, in the course of which he said that it was natural for all, for the young especially, to enjoy life and it was right to do so. God delighted in the happiness of His creatures and seemed to have given them many things only to add to their happiness. We were placed here in the midst of this beautiful world, free to walk in the way that our hearts choose, and free too to think for ourselves. We were no man's slaves. We were God's free children in a glorious world. God wished us to enjoy our freedom and His many gifts. At the same time we had to do so as responsible beings. "Know thou that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment." That was no threat. It did not mean that God was ever ready to find fault and store up our faults with no other thought than to punish us for enjoying His gifts. That would be to set a trap for us. God did no such thing; but He reminded us that we were responsible to Him for the use of all His good things. We were not animals. We were under law to God, as we were under law to man. It was no hardship to be in a land where there were strict laws which we were obliged to keep. We counted it a blessing that we were responsible to God for the use of every good thing we had and which so many of us had in such abundance. Let us think what a fearful thing it would be if we were not thus accountable, if God were thrown out of our account. The French revolution would always show what denial of God would lead to when every man thought he could do just as he pleased. But if we brought God into our life we were free to do as we liked and think as we liked, so long as we formed our plans and our opinions with reference to Him and His will as revealed in Jesus Christ, His Son. This was religion—no gloomy, ascetic thing—but freedom, manliness and the truest enjoyment. The Bishop then gave a few concluding words of advice on the words "Rejoice O young man in thy youth and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth; and walk in the ways of thy heart and in the sight of thine eyes; but know thou that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment." He said it was a very much misunderstood. People often thought of it as condemning every thing like enjoyment in life, as if God gave us a beautiful world and then held a tremendous threat over us if we were happy in it. But God was no such tyrant. He gave us powers of mind and body fitted to enjoy it.

ABRIDGED PROSPECTUS.

SHERIDAN MINING COMPANY,
CAPITAL.....£15,000.
IN 3,000 SHARES, £5. 000 EACH.

PROVISIONAL COMMITTEE:
F. W. GALLS, Esq. J. SIMPSON, Esq.
A. MYBURGH, Esq. J. M. RINGER, Esq.

LEGAL ADVISER:
C. DOWDALL, Esq.

SECRETARIES:
Messrs. DRYSDALE, RINGER & Co.
MANAGER AND RESIDENT ENGINEER:
H. ERNEST WATERS, Esq.

THE object of this Company is to Purchase and Work the SHERIDAN SILVER MINE, situated in MARSHALL BASIN, SAM MIGUEL COUNTY, COLORADO, U.S.A., distant from Silverton 12 miles, this town being the terminus of the Denver and Rio Grande Railway, at present the nearest point of railway communication, but the construction of a line to Telluride is contemplated, distant between 4 and 5 miles.

The Sheridan is a well known property, and is one of a group of mines in the above-mentioned district, celebrated for producing ore of high grade and remarkable purity.

The average value of the ore that has been produced and sold, since the opening of the mine is—1st Class, 200 oz. Silver and 2 1/2 oz. Gold per ton, equal at $1.10 per oz. for Silver and $20 per oz. for Gold, to American dollars 270.00 per ton.

2nd Class, 180 oz. Silver and 1 3/10 oz. Gold per ton, equal at $1.10 per oz. for Silver and $20 per oz. for Gold, to American dollars 224.00 per ton.

3rd Class, 120 oz. Silver and 1 1/10 oz. Gold per ton, equal at $1.10 per oz. for Silver and $20 per oz. for Gold, to American dollars 154.00 per ton.

The fixed price of the mine is the equivalent of £15,000, which must be paid before the 15th January next, in order to secure the property, but of this sum the vendors take one-third in fully paid stock of the Company.

It is proposed to provide the Capital required for the purchase and working of the mine by the issue of 3,000 shares, or such portion of this number as may be deemed sufficient, at £5. 000 per share, £15,000 per share being payable upon application, and the balance on allotment.

Mr. WATERS, the Engineer of the Company, has thoroughly examined the property, and strongly recommends the purchase. His estimate of the value of the ore taken out during examination, together with what can be taken out and made ready for transport to smelters, before the roads are re-opened in the Spring, at Eighty Thousand Dollars.

The mine has hitherto been worked under a strict lease compelling the Lessees to do a certain quantity of dead work to develop the mine, and restricting them as to the quantity of ore they may take out by "stopping," they paying a Royalty to the owners of 30 per cent. of the ore extracted, besides bearing the expenses of mining.

The ore taken out during last Autumn and Winter working, realised a profit to the Lessees, after payment of Royalty and expenses, of about $30,000, their operations being limited to two tunnels; hence it is obvious that when the mine is in full working order by opening more tunnels (which Mr. WATERS is doing), the output can be considerably increased, and it is not an exaggerated estimate to put the yearly profit at 20 to 25 per cent. on the capital invested.

Besides ore of high grade, the mine produces a considerable quantity of ore hitherto regarded as "waste," being of too low grade to pay, under present circumstances, for transportation to smelters, but which Mr. WATERS has reason to believe can shortly be made payable by concentration, at works lately established in the neighbourhood, for the express purpose of working "waste" ore from the mines in Marshall Basin.

There is upon the dump more than 700 tons of "waste," which will become the property of the Company on completion of the purchase.

Mr. WATERS estimates that during the first six months of next year he can take out 400 tons of ore valued at $90,000, taking 200 oz. Silver and 18 oz. Gold per ton, at a total cost of $40,000, leaving a balance of profit upon the six months working of $50,000, and in his estimate of expenditure he has included sundry expenses incidental to the commencement of the Company and extension of the works that will not again appear in the Working Account.

Applications for shares will be received, up to the 30th of December next, by the HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANK at any of its branches in China and Japan and in Hongkong, or by the Secretaries, and receipts will be granted for amount of deposits.

In the event of no allotment being made the deposit will be repaid.

Application forms, and Pamphlets containing further particulars regarding the mine, can be obtained at the BANK, or from the SECRETARIES.

Tripp, Esq.; Open sailing boats: E. Burnie, Esq.; Judge of sailing races: Lieutenant G. W. Balliston, R.N.

The twenty-eighth annual regatta of the Victoria Recreation Club was commenced this afternoon under the most favorable auspices, and proved far and away the most successful aquatic meeting held in the colony for many years past. With weather brilliant in the extreme, a powerful sun counteracting the bracing coolness of the atmosphere, the sea in excellent order for rowing, and a fine fresh breeze blowing throughout the day, thus giving the yachts and other sailing craft every opportunity of displaying their seagoing qualities, success from a sporting point of view seemed assured, and, as we predicted would be the case, the racing was of an unusually interesting description, several of the finishes being close and exciting.

The White Star Line steamer Coptic, the use of which had been courteously placed at the disposal of the Committee for a flagship, by Captain Kidley, was gallantly decorated with bunting from stem to stern, and preparations on a most lavish and thoroughly complete and satisfactory scale had been made by the popular commander and his officers for the reception of guests. As the Regatta Committee, with their customary courtesy had specially invited the ladies of the colony, and issued a general invitation to the community at large, the attendance on board the Coptic was far in excess of anything seen at the sports during the past decade. Amongst other distinguished guests on board the flagship we observed Mr. W. H. Marsh, Colonial Secretary, several other high government officials, a number of military and naval officers, and most of the leading residents of the colony, including a goodly sprinkling of ladies. Assumptuousness was provided in the well appointed saloon of the Coptic, and during the afternoon the fine band of the French flag ship Victory played several capital musical selections.

As in former years, the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Company's steam tug Prince, the use of which had been kindly granted by Mr. Gillies, the popular Secretary, to convey visitors to and from the shore and the ship, rendered efficient service. Mr. A. P. McEwen, one of our best scullers in by-gone days, and Mr. E. L. Woodin, one of the keenest rowers, and best oarsmen ever associated with the sport in Hongkong, efficiently filled the positions of starter and umpire for the rowing. Mr. H. J. H. Tripp and Capt. E. Burnie acting in a similar capacity for the yachts and sailing boats respectively. Mr. J. P. McEwen, R.N., and Mr. R. K. Leigh acted as judges, and their decisions left no room for caviling. The members of the Committee did everything possible to ensure a thorough success, and a word of praise is certainly due to the honorary secretary, Mr. J. H. Stewart Lockhart, who was ubiquitous in his exertions.

The races were the best contested we have seen for a long time. As usual, the Junior Sculls ended in a fiasco, Glass getting the race on a fluke. The old Royal Artillery boat Gunner had no difficulty in adding one more to its long list of victories in the gig race, and then Hughes, Stewart, Goodlad and Glass, steered by G. A. Caldwell, scored a complete runaway victory for the Chairman's Cup, the German crew securing second place after a hard struggle. As there were three Scotchmen in the winning boat, our prediction that the International looked for a fair way of falling to the "cannibals" from the north side of the Tweed bids fair to be realized. There was a splendid race for the German Cup, the whole of the crews keeping close together until close home. Eventually Fisher's crew in the Shamrock won a brilliantly contested struggle from the Kornblume (Kultau), with the other three close together, and overlapping each other.

Another supposed certainty was upset in the Welsh Cup, Mr. Kerfoot Hughes' valuable trophy falling to Grimbles' crew, who were the outsiders of the party, but nevertheless managed to win cleverly from Fisher's team, who were backed at long odds against the field.

The results of the sailing races will be found below, excepting the yacht race, which was not finished when our report left. Naomi led all the way, closely pursued by the Arctik, and we fancy that Mr. Dickie's smart little cutter will save her time and obtain a winning flag, although it may be a very tight fit. The Waves and Kathleen were completely outpaced, but they kept together and made a most interesting race between themselves.

Details of the various events are appended.—

1ST RACE.—1 P.M.
"JUNIOR SCULLS" For Single Pair Sculling Boats. Entrance, $5. Distance, One Mile. Prize, "Brokers' Cup." Open to any one who has never won a Sculling Race in China or Japan.

Station No. 1. Mr. T. Glass.....Camilla..... [Black & Gold]

Station No. 2. Mr. C. A. Cornish.....Mary Love..... [White & Blue]

Station No. 3. Mr. F. Grimbles.....Blanche..... [White & Red Stripes]

The three competitors were despatched on even terms, but after going about a hundred yards, Cornish in the centre drew slightly ahead, and immediately afterwards bore away towards the left, whether with the intention of taking Glass's water or simply owing to his inability to steer straight was not quite apparent. At all events he crossed over in front of Glass, and the latter, pursuing a foul tow, placed the boats getting locked, and allowing Grimbles, who was rowing by himself far away to the right, to obtain a commanding lead. Getting clear, Glass quickly drew away from Cornish, and was soon on terms with the leader. Steering very badly, Glass allowed himself to be made once more the object of Cornish's erratic intentions, and another foul was with difficulty avoided. Passing the naval coal sheds, Glass led by several lengths and appeared to have the race in hand, but at the point he ran into a boat and had to cease rowing for a considerable time, thus enabling both Grimbles and Cornish to draw up. After getting free, Glass again overhauled his opponents, both of whom were sculling wretchedly, and two hundred yards from the winning boat was well in front, but steering too close in shore he was compelled to cease rowing, Grimbles again assuming the lead. Glass on getting his skiff straight spurred energetically, and as Grimbles at the same moment attempted to take his opponent's water a foul resulted, Glass holding up his hand to claim the foul, and ceasing to persevere. Grimbles was thus enabled to get first past the Judge, but a claim of foul was very properly allowed, and the race awarded to Glass, who would have won by a couple of hundred yards had he not been interfered with.

2ND RACE.—1.40 P.M.
FOR GIGS pulled by European Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of any Regiment or Corps. Entrance, $1. Distance, One Mile. First Prize, $15; Second, $5. Outriggers Boats excluded.

Station No. 1. Royal Artillery.....The Gunner..... [Blue and Red Flag]

Station No. 2. Royal Artillery.....The Bombardier.....Red Flag

Station No. 3. Royal Engineers.....The Sapper.....Red & Blue

The Gunner, victor in several races in years past, quickly shot to the front, and the crew pulling well together, assumed a commanding lead before half the distance had been covered. Eventually the old cut-down Canton cutter won easily by about a dozen lengths, half of which distance divided the second and third.

XMAS! XMAS! XMAS!

KOCH & Co., Nos. 15 & 17, POTTINGER STREET, THE LATEST NOVELTY OUT.

AUTOMATIC WATER FOUNTAINS.

COME AND SEE, AND SATISFY YOURSELVES.

THE latest invention of the age, suitable for Parlour, Drawing Room or Conservatory. No Small No. Smaller No. Danger! These WATER-FOUNTAINS are the result of a long series of scientific experiments only just started at the same of perfection. The motor power consists of a miniature engine propelled by hot air generated by a spirit lamp. The force of the engine is sufficient to raise a jet of water several feet in the air, being regulated, as far as ten feet, by the raising or lowering of the flame of the lamp. It takes but a few minutes to set the machine in motion. No special attention required, save to trim the lamp, once in 24 hours. The Fountain, now of tasteful design and arranged for the reception of aquatic plants, or an aquarium, to suit the pleasure of the possessor, and are made as strong and durable as iron, glass, and wood can make them. Will last a lifetime and cannot get out of order. Call and satisfy yourselves.

UNDER the heading "Exhibits to the Cork Exhibition, Ireland," "THE CORK CONSTITUTION, No. 13,025, dated Saturday, July 14th 1883, says:—

MESSRS. TURNBULL JUNR. & SOMERVILLE.

"Valletta, Malta, exhibit in a tastefully arranged case, samples of their famous 'Kalaas-I-Hind' Cigarettes, and inasmuch as a revolution in the habit of smoking is now setting in, this exhibit should prove attractive to all lovers of the 'fragrant weed.' Instead of strong Tobacco, often used in too strong pipes and full flavoured Cigars, the mild Cigarette is rapidly coming into vogue. Those now on view in the Exhibition are highly spoken of by the Press, vendors, and smokers."
